Junk Whang Ho at Last Reaches
Port.

TOWED IN SUNDAY MORNING

Columbia Arrives From San Francisco
—Lumber Fleet Comes In and Fills Harbor—Emily Reed Goes On Desdemona Sands—Whang Ho Damaged

The Chinese junk Whang Ho is at last in port and is anchored near the Callender dock. The South Bay made a trip out to the junk Sunday morning, where she was anchored off the bar. The latter vessel had suffered quite noticeably in the rough weather when she was blown off the bar Saturday evening. Her mizzen mast had gone by the board, taking a portion of the stern with it. In this portion of the vessel was located the joss house and this refuge of Chinese religion was rudely desecrated. The whole of the barbaric splendor within which the honor, the joss, was wont to sit enthroned, was tumbled into the sea. Most of the grass matting sails were on the mizzen mast and went with it when it was blown over. The junk passed the night off the bar safely but it was an anxious night for the crew of four men who manned her. A party of several persons made the trip out to the junk, including Mr. Hunter, the advance agent of the junk, and two newspaper men. No trouble was experienced in towing the junk. She is now being cleaned up and her furnishings rearranged. The public was not admitted yesterday forenoon on this account but in the latter part of the afternoon and evening the Whang Ho was thrown open to visitors. She will remain in Astoria about a week when she will go on up the river to Portland.

The Geo. W. Elder came in last evening from San Francisco and way points. She had a good cargo and a full passenger list. Among the latter were a number of striking mill men from Eureka who are going to Portland in search of work and on other missions. The Elder had no accidents on her journey and reports fair weather all the way.

The schooner Expansion from San Pedro bound for Portland for lumber came in Sunday and left up yesterday in tow of the Harvest Queen.

Lightship 50 was towed out to her station by the Heather yesterday afternoon. She has only a partial crew, owing to the resignation of her entire former crew. A full complement of officers and men will be added later. Mark Brander, formerly mate on her, has been appointed master.

The Columbia came in yesterday with a full cargo of freight and many passengers. She left up the river for Portland yesterday afternoon. The Columbia will leave Astoria on its next trip to San Francisco on the 16th of this month at 3:30 p. m.

The lighthouse tender Columbine leaves up for Portland this morning to take on material and supplies, after which she will sail for Puget Sound to make the round of the lighthouses there.

The barkentine Makawell came in Sunday from San Francisco to load lumber at Wallace's Slough. She will probably leave up the river today in tow of the Oklahoma.

The Emily Reed, an American ship, went on the Desdemona sands at about noon yesterday. She is high and dry and it will take some time to kedge her off.

The bark Agate came in Sunday from San Francisco. She left up for Portland yesterday in tow of the Harvest to load lumber.

The schooner James Rolph came in Sunday. She left for Westport to take on a cargo of lumber yesterday in tow of the Oklahoma.

The schooner Alivra, of San Pedro, came in Sunday bound for Goble for lumber. She left up yesterday in tow of the Oklahoma.

The bark Diamond Head is in from San Pedro. She is bound for Vancouver for lumber and will probably leave up today in tow.

Just Received

The secret of making good pictures is in having the best materials to work with. Hart's drug store have just received a fresh supply of films and film-packs, so get in the game and do it right.

IT MAKES A DIFFERENCE.

It makes all the difference in the world to the convivial man where, and what, he drinks. Most men desire beauty and cleanliness, and handsome appointments in the saloon they patronize regularly, as well as the essential pre-requisite of genuine wines and liquors that are served to them. And these things are so particularly and properly conspicuous at Otto Sund's elegant resort, the Commercial, at No. 509 on the street of that name that they account thoroughly for the fixed and splendid custom he enjoys. There is nothing allowed to pass his counter but the best and choicest in every department of indulgence, and the service behind it all, is the most pleasing and satisfying in the city.

Remember the bond side closing out sale at Mrs. Ross' millinery parlors. Everything must be sold.

FOR SERVICE AND CONVENIENCE

The prime essential of a business establishment is to have it open for the purposes of business when it is needed; not closed by custom nor any rule of hours. This essential attaches to the drug store of Dr. C. E. Linton at 185 Eleventh street, which is open every one of the 24 hours in the day; and with a stock that meets every requirement likely to arise in that time. It is one of the exceptions and is thoroughly endorsed.

Remember the big closing out sale of millinery goods at Mrs. Ross' Children's hats at less than cost. This sale will continue until everything is sold.

For The Little People.

Every parent in this city should investigate, at once, the new and appreciable shoe for the youngsters, at Charles V. Brown's Commercial street house. They are called the "E. C. Scuffer" and are the very epitome of good wear and real comfort. They are going like wild-fire and the kids themselves are after them because they look so "comfy."

If a man knows anything of his own anatomy he must be aware that his stomach is a magnificent organ and entitled to the utmost consideration; knowing that he will eat at the Palace when he can conserve its safety and comfort, by eating only the best cooked, best served and most compensating meal in the city of Astoria. day, or night, it is always the same, and the Palace habit is one that pays to acquire. Arthur Smith is a master of the art of preparation and service, of all things edible.
